

The background of the cover is a dark blue field. Overlaid on this are several large, stylized gold-colored crosses or plus signs. These gold shapes are arranged in a staggered, overlapping pattern. Within the negative space of these gold shapes, there are solid red squares. The overall effect is a complex, geometric, and somewhat pixelated or blocky design.

Headmaster's Greeting to the Class of 1987

The Class of 1987 will become particularly important in Hoosac's history because of important changes that your class represents.

First of all, you're a substantially larger number of students to graduate from Hoosac for many years. Your numbers represent a new vigor and vitality in the life and progress of the school.

You're not only the last senior class to have smoking permission at Hoosac, you are the first in almost a decade to lead the school back to its tradition of fielding winning teams against our larger opponents. You have done much to build good morale and a winning attitude. (I hope some of you use that strength to quit smoking on your own).

Next, you have done well for yourselves academically and produced an impressive long list of good college acceptances.

I wish to thank you for your contributions to Hoosac. You have set an example for successive senior classes to follow so that you and other alumni can always be proud that Hoosac is your school. I hope you will come back and visit when you can. Also, drop us a line once in a while and tell us your news. Mrs. Wright and I wish you success, good health and happiness always! May God bless you and keep you mindful of the needs of others.

Sincerely,

Donn D. Wright

Dear Mom and Dad,

I know that we didn't always agree on things and that it wasn't always easy. That's why I want to thank you for the sacrifices that you made for me and somehow you always saw that I got it.

You always told me that I could do anything that I put my mind to. Now as I'm heading for college, I hope that you're right. It's time to take all that you taught me about life and values and prove to you that I was listening when you didn't think I was. Because of you two I have a good start on life and I will always be grateful. I hope that I will make you proud of me.

Wish me luck!

I love you,

Sometimes in school, I wanted to give up, but I could always

Through the good and bad, our friendships lasted.
Don't forget the good times. Remember when . . .

Mom and Dad,

"It happens once,
not twice,
the moments vanishing,
like mice,
scurrying past,
life much too fast,
and only for the very brave,
the strong,
the true,
and when the moment
comes,
for you,
don't let it pass you by.
For in the twinkling of an eye,
the love is gone,
the moment dead,
an empty ringing in your head,
your heart will know
when fate has whispered
in your ear . . .
Oh never fear, beloved friend,
for in the end, it's worth
the price, the fee, the cost,
when all is lost,
but love is won.
when true love comes,
there is but one."

But really it was only yesterday
And now it's all gone.

SPORTS

This year, Hoosac Sports Teams had mixed results. The girls soccer team started out strong, winning their first game, and then met with some disappointment, finishing with a 2-8 record. The boys, meanwhile had a season of ups and downs, finishing the season at 4-7, just missing the playoffs by one game.

Although having a short season, Cross-country did very well. They blew away Highcroft and did well in other meets. The team placed 3rd in the Taconic Conference putting 4 runners in the top 10.

In the winter, the Basketball team played hard all season, but came up empty in every game, sometimes out-playing the opposition, but always being out-scored by them. This spring, Hoosac's Tennis team was also winless, but many new players learned the game and will be sure to help the team next year. Our girls Softball team again made it to the semi-finals, only to lose to Darrow. Lacrosse played extremely well ending up with a record of 4-3. This is the first Hoosac Lacrosse team to have a winning record.

*As I kneel before my bed each night
At the close of a weary day.
I bury my head in trembling hands,
And tears fall as I pray.*

*Dear God, Unworthy as I am
I only ask one thing of thee
Bless the ones I love tonight.
And help them to remember me.*

*Just help them to keep me in their hearts,
'til soon we meet again.
And even though we're far apart,
I love them God Amen.*

As the leaves change color, new and old students arrive, to a place so near but yet so far from home.

A place where they meet and keep friends from all over the world.

They will share good times and bad and hopes and dreams.

Then the winter months come and shed a face of gloom around the campus, but inside there is a sense of cheer, that no one seems to fear.

And once again the snow will fall, and so will the children one and all.

Winter means that half the year's gone by and only leaves another half to fill us up inside.

As the snow melts, the flowers bloom and so do the faces on these young children about to face the world again, as soon as these months roll by and oh do they roll by with each new day bringing something new, and the next day giving them something to look forward to.

Then comes the end where seniors leave to another world, a world that all of us will get to eventually.

But for now I am content with where I am and the things around me.

For Hoosac is a place filled with memories for us all, of good and bad, and spring and fall.
